OFFICIAL DESPATCHES .- The Union of Monday night contains the detailed accounts of the battle of Buena Vista, from the pen of Gen. Taylor. The account is a very long and interesting one, but as we have published so full details of that action heretofore in our cclumns, and as those details correspond so nearly with the account furnished by Gen. Taylor, we do not think it necessary to republish it We also find in the same paper of the same date, the official accounts of the operations in New Mexico, from the pen of Col. Sterling Price. This despatch we will give in our next paper, as we think our readers will be our brilliant successes in that quarter.

13-The Chronicle of Wednesday last, does not answer one of our questions. He has not shewn one single instance in which the President has shewn any hostility to General Taylor. His "array of proof," we do say, has no bearing on the point at issue whatever, and we leave the readers of the Chronicle to be the judges. But why does the Chronicle allude to that part of our article alone? Why did he not answer some of our inquiries about the political principles of Gen. Taylor? Why does that paper keep such profound silence about the political doctrines of the man whose name he hoists as a candidate for the Presidency? Again. Why does the Chronicle a political creed will be manufactured for ever seen. We give it a place with a great Gen. THE MARKETS.

WILMINGTON MARKET-April 22. NAVAL STORES-It is the impression of dealers that the last year's crop of Turpen tine has about all reached the market, with in which they had been imbedded until their tion from the South. Col. Doniphan's advices the exception of a few small parcels, which continue to come in gradually. The price has receded from last week's quotations down to there were no Mexican reinforcements or sup- $2 10 for both descriptions of soft, and $1 10 for hard, at which rates we quote to-day .-We can hear of no transactions in Spirits Turfamily; and he said when he could get any rubbed his eyes, and exclaimed, Hold on its ded more attention within a few days, and we hear that it has gone up to $1 45-at which price last sales were effected.

TIMBER & LUMBER-Our quotations remain without change. The market is well supplied, and owing to the high rates of freight and the scarcity of vessels, sales are not brisk in the Lumber line. The supply of Mill will be recollected that the following ticket | Timber is fair, and our quotations embrace all for mercantile business, and abounds with as fine has been in nomination for some time past .- | qualities, from ordinary to good Timber, with fish and oysters as could be desired. > BACON-This article has become somewhat scarce, especially in the article of Sides, and the price has materially advanced. The stock of Hams and Shoulders continues good, and there is little or no change to notice.

CORN-The only receipts have been per Rail Road, with one or two small lots per steamboat, from up the Cape Fear. The stock in store is very light, but quotations are without change. The article retails from store, in lots to suit purchasers, at $1 per bushel.

FLOUR-The receipts of Fayetteville have been light, and best quality commands 25 cts. more than it did this day week. Canal retails at $8 50 to $9

SHINGLES-One or two lots have been sold at $2 25. Our quotations are, however, about the mark, with slow sales. Our table of quotations for other articles will represent a fair state of the market. FREIGHTS-Continue high. Vessels scarce and in great demand.

There has been no particular change in produce : ar rival of corn has been free and sales generally at about 65 cents. Flour $5 25 to $5 75; Oats 40; Cotton re mains at 101 to 114 cts; Whiskey 28 to 30; Brandy 3

THE PUBLIC.

TAKE this method of informing the public that I now occupy the Livery Stables formerly occupied by Mr. H. R. NIXON, and solicit the patronage of the public generally. All persons who may favor me with a call, may rest assured that their horses will be promptly attended to, as I flatter myself that I have the best of Ostlers. W. T. G. VANN, Agent.
